(U) Marysville – Yuba County Jail Inmate Dies from Fentanyl Poisoning

(U) An inmate at the Yuba County Jail died earlier this month from fentanyl poisoning. The Yuba County Sheriff's Office identified the inmate as Matthew D. Perez. Earlier this month, correctional officers at the jail responded to reports of an inmate in distress. Medics arrived and performed life-saving measures, including administering Narcan, a treatment for suspected opioid overdoses. Perez was transported to a hospital in Marysville for further treatment, but he was later pronounced dead. The sheriff's office said the toxicology report indicates Perez suffered a fentanyl-related overdose. They said it is unclear at this time how the synthetic opioid made its way into the jail.

(U) New York – Task Force Takes Down Ghost Gun Ring, 57 Weapons Seized with Ammo

(U) Albany – An arsenal of ghost guns equipped to carry up to 100 rounds of ammunition were seized in a tactical takedown of a gun trafficking crew. Some of the guns were equipped with rapid-fire modification devices or silencers. Some were purchased from companies that sell gun parts and assembled by the crew. Those weapons lack serial numbers, that law enforcement agencies need to trace their usage and movements.

(U) North Carolina – Threats at Numerous Schools Found Not Credible

(U) Charlotte – Numerous threats to schools in several cities across North Carolina turned out to be hoaxes, officials confirmed yesterday. In Charlotte, there were prank calls about people being shot at four different schools. A Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools spokesperson said that law enforcement officers began investigating and found the threats weren't credible. At the same time, similar threats were reported at schools throughout North Carolina, along with sheriff's offices and police departments. No suspects have been identified yet in connection with the threats.
